The abstract, here, should be the same as the abstract of the one page abstract.

Digest

The digest is a three to five page long extended summary of your work. Start by describing the problem your work addresses. Describe your work and how it contributes to the solution of the problem. Include, if relevant, as much evidence of completed experimental as possible. Conclude your digest with a list of appropriate references to prior work. This reference list should be submitted as a separate page which is not included in the three to five pages.

The guidelines and requirements for digest submitted to PESC 2004 are:

- Papers presented at PESC must be original material and must not have been presented or published previously.
- The Digest should give a clear and concise statement of the purpose and contribution of the work, specific results and the methods used. Include key equations, figures and tables.
- PESC reviewers value highly evidence of completed experimental work such as oscillograms and photos of equipment under test. Please note that PESC reviewers generally do not consider computer simulations as experimental evidence.
- The heading of the Digest should include only the title with no mention of the authors or their affiliations.
- Digests should be three to five pages. Each page should be a single column on North American A size (8.5 inch x 11 inch) or European A4 size paper. The minimum font size is 10 points.
- Digests longer than five pages may be rejected by the reviewers.
